

ARIANNA PERRY

Arianna Perry has been dancing, taking classes, and competing with Angelic Academy of Dance for over ten years. She was also a competitive gymnast for several years before she decided to fully commit herself to dance. Arianna attended Estero High School and was a lead choreographer for several theater productions and concerts during her high school years.

Arianna has taught and continues to teach a wide variety of classes including acro, hip-hop, tap, and lyrical. She has won student choreography awards and prides herself on her unique, interesting, and challenging style that she shares with her students. Arianna is currently a full time student at Florida Gulf Coast University and was a member of their dance team during her freshman year where she performed at basketball games and many campus events. She has now decided to focus solely on teaching and her studies as a psychology major. Arianna hopes to continue working with children after graduating.
